Romantic urban fantasy about Roman gods and an impossible love.

CONTENT

Jupiter, Mars, Minerva, Venus: the ancient roman gods have never played a role in Nayla's life. That changes when she is in a terrible car accident – and inexplicably survives it unharmed. When two mysterious characters, Philemon and Cyrian, turn up at Nayla's high school soon after, she senses that they are hiding something and that a secret is awakening inside her as well. Nayla feels almost magically drawn to aloof Cyrian in particular. But her feelings have no future: their love would endanger Nayla's life because she is a descendant of Venus, the goddess of love, and has been cursed. If her beloved betrays her, she will die.
