CONTENT

The first play-and-touch book for little vehicle enthusiasts! Children 18 months and over can not only touch and feel the fascinating vehicles, they can play with them straight away. The little string on the petrol pump is the hose. It can be used to fill up the car. The truck takes a container to the construction site. It is attached to moveable elements and can be set down. The car has just come out of the car wash and still needs to be rubbed dry with the felt curtain. The little ones can join in here as well. A total of six large and entertaining tactile elements invite children to explore, join in and have fun. Thanks to the spiral binding, the book remains open, allowing babies to explore the pages in detail. The outstanding production quality makes for enduring playing fun.
