CONTENT

Today is a special day for the little bee: it flies out into the garden to collect pollen and nectar for the first time. Full of curiosity, it roams the garden, discovering blossoms and encountering many other insects such as butterflies and bumblebees. But it had better keep its distance from the wasps! A charming read-aloud story with simple text for little nature explorers

THE AUTHOR

Sandra Grimm began her career as an editor and is now a freelance author. Her background as a certified teacher offers a sound basis for her books for children and teenagers. She has three young children with whom she can test all her fun ideas.
