CONTENT

There is no place in the world Lia loves more than her father's bookstore. When he dies suddenly and his daughter — highly sensitive, a talented writer, and still a student — inherits the store, her paradise threatens to fall apart: The bookshop is nearly bankrupt and Lia is too shy to draw in new customers. Until one day a young man with boldly gleaming green eyes storms into the bookstore. With his charm, Drew throws Lia completely off balance and makes her heart flutter. As they get to know each other and become closer, Lia has no idea that Drew's past is darker than any story in her store.

THE AUTHOR

Marnie Schaefers is the pseudonym of a young German author: Marius. He was born in 1995 and discovered his passion for books at an early age, influenced in no small part by Tolkien's Lord of the Rings. He self-published his debut novel at the age of 18, followed by additional self-published successes. Marius shares fascinating insider information and sources of inspiration for his romantic/dramatic and fantasy stories on Instagram and Facebook, and speaks openly about his trans identity. Since his transition the author has lived as a man. Marius greatly enjoys interaction with his readers.
